

feelings journal

Start a feelings journal to help everyone in your family express emotions. Photocopy this page several times. Then put the pages in a binder or clip them together. Together, fill out a page each day.

Today I feel:

One hard thing that happened today was:

One good thing that happened today was:

