

COMING TOGETHER

What We Love

We all love different things, but we love some of the same things, too. Think about what you love and what is important to you.

Draw those things in the heart, or a grown-up can write down your ideas.

